Self concept

DFC Kreuzberg was launched in 2012 by the non-profit organization "Fußball und Begegnung" (carrier of the DISCOVER FOOTBALL project). DFC Kreuzberg is a self-organized football club that contributes to the encouragement of women and girls to play football. Because it is often very hard for women to break open the male-dominated structures in a traditional football club, we want to create with DFC Kreuzberg a transparent and self-organized alternative and shake up the landscape of football. DFC Kreuzberg is a club open for all women who want to play football, regardless of their athletic abilities, skill level in football, or age. Hence the club should be supported by women from different backgrounds, differences should be accepted, and differing positions, concerns, and needs should be able to be discussed. DFC Kreuzberg campaigns against sexism, racism, homophobia, and other forms of discrimination in football and other sports- and non-sports-related areas. We are happy to welcome new players who share these attitudes and have the desire to get involved in a self-organized football club.
